

IN MEMORY OF MRS. RUFUS NORRIS

On Monday night, May 29, 1944, the death angel visited the home of Rufus Norris and claimed the soul of his darling wife. She had been ill a good while. In God's own glory it pleased Him to take her soul from this sinful world of suffering and sorrow, to put on a starry crown. We know she is now dwelling with loved ones in the heavenly home prepared for the ones who give their lives to God and manifest His works. All was done that loving hands could do to restore her to health, but God knew best and called her home. May we all be prepared, so when the Lord says its enough we can go to a higher home.—Written by a friend.

LIBERTY NEWS

June 19, 1944
We wonder how every one is feeling this pretty morning. We are feeling pretty good. Got a good rain yesterday eve which was needed. Crops were doing very well but gardens were needing rain. I did not think we could ever really feel proud of this crop but we have a fine stand and everything is looking pretty good. Lawrence Foley has been sick but is up and going. Mrs. Dot Bryant has been in bed a few days but is up again. Mr. J. M. Stokes has had brail's fever but is up and going.
I was in Elba Saturday eve and met a good many friends. Sure we glad to see them.
John Frank Foley and wife, Mrs. Cecil Beck and little sons, Joel, Miland and Kenneth spent the week end with us.
Mr. and Mrs. Funderburk, of Phenix City, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Messick. Every one can come to Liberty on Thursday, June 29, to clean of the cemetery. Come and bring a lunch for there is lots to do.
We learn that Mr. Leamon Kircrose lost two milk cows last week. They got out of pen and ate some soda, which always kills if they get much. We regret his loss. Best wishes to all. Don't forget the sick and old.
H. I. BOLAND.

BIRTHDAY BARBECUE

Emergency Aid Life Association, of Elba, gave a barbecue dinner at Elba pool on June 7, honoring Mr. D. C. Marley on his birthday, and invited all agents of the Dothan district and their wives. W. M. Brunson, president of the company was guest speaker. Mr. Brunson and Mr. Marley have been close friends for more than a quarter of a century, and in his remarks he held Mr. Marley in high esteem, and gave each agent and guest an opportunity to say a few words each responding with very complimentary remarks.

Mr. Marley has always said that if any one had any flowers to give to him, that he had rather receive them while he was living, so he was made very happy. Mr. Brunson called on Brother J. F. Powell, of Samson, to offer thanks. After the barbecue plate and all that goes with it were served, and the birthday cake was being cut, guests sang "happy birthday" to Mr. Marley and Mr. Lamar Rainer, who also had a birthday on that date.

The following agents and their wives were present: G. C. Stokes, Dothan; Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Sellers, Ashford; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Marley, Hartford; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brunson, Elba; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Herring, Abbeville; Mrs. T. L. Holmes, Headland; Rev. L. P. Powell, Samson. Guests included: Mrs. W. W. Sanders, Miss Lillie Harper, Miss Vivian Harper, Mrs. Mary Alice Mayes, Mrs. Pastene Bryan, Miss Helen Taylor, of the office force; State Supervisor, J. Ross Clark, and Mrs. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Forthner, Elba; Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Rainer, Elba.

After dinner Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Clark invited guests to their home where lemon drinks were served. Mr. and Mrs. Marley were very happy during the day as they had both their children and their families with them.—Contributed.

HUEY KELLEY WRITES ON MOTHER'S DAY

Cpl. Huey E. Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edd F. Kelley, Jack, Ala., wrote greetings to his mother on May 14 from New Guinea. In the letter he stated: "I am O. K. As you know today is mother's day and I have done one thing that I always did when I was at home—I went to church. You know we always went to Victoria on this day and I am hoping we can be together next year on this day. Wish I could send you something but from here there is nothing to send. I am enclosing a short verse."

On this special day, when many miles apart, I send this message from the depths of my heart, to the most wonderful mother a son could ever own, to a mother sweet and loving through every year I've grown. She wakes each morning at break of day to find that no one's there, and listens for her son's familiar steps upon the stair. But everything is quiet and she knows it's all too true; her son is many miles away across an ocean blue. She goes about her chores each day, declining to forget that every day that makes it's way brings him closer yet.

If any one should care to write my address for Cpl. Huey E. Kelley, 34162976, 71st Bomb Sqdn (M) AAF, 38th Bomb Group (M), APO 713, Unit 1, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Yanks Advance on Two Fronts As German Resistance Stiffens; B-29s Blast Steel Mills in Japan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PACIFIC: Action Here, Too

Supported by the greatest air force in battle history, Allied forces within ten days of the European D-Day, terrific blows were dealt the Japanese on the opposite side of the globe.

Day before the new Super-Flying Fortresses bombed Japan proper, a powerful navy sea and air force blasted the outer defenses of the island of Saipan in the Marianas to prepare the way for the landing of American troops on that strategic Japanese base only 1,500 miles southeast of Tokyo.

To wrest Saipan from the Japanese, Americans had a job which combined the worst factors of Tarawa and Guadalcanal. For like at Tarawa they had to land over a well-defended coral reef and like on Guadalcanal, the Jap had himself well entrenched in good fortified positions which extended all the way across that jungle island. When the beachhead on Saipan was established there was still a long way to go but word from Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' headquarters indicated that the Yanks were advancing.

Initial reports listed moderate casualties while the official bulletin revealed that: "Virtually all heavy coastal and anti-aircraft batteries on the island were knocked out by naval gun fire and bombing."

While these no longer worried the Americans, they knew their task would come in the inner jungles as they faced the Jap artillery, mortar and machine gun fire.

Super Raid
From secret bases in China, not from an aircraft carrier this time, American planes dealt Japan proper a smashing air blow when a squadron of the new Super Flying Fortresses bombed Japan's homeland, Tokyo radio said industrial areas of Tokyo and Shinjoh were hit.

Only a drizzle of official news came from American sources on the raid but announcement of aerial task force attacks on land, residents of England said they flew from the United States to India to see the B-29s.

This raid also revealed the formation of a new air force, the 21st, which would serve the United States cause as a roving globe-trotting task force much like a naval fleet. This air arm will not confine itself to attacks on Japan but is "able to participate in combined operations, or to be assigned to strike wherever the need is greatest."

Before any official announcement of the targets was made by the army, a report in congressional circles hinted that Tokyo itself was one of the main objectives.

ITALY: Allied Drive Continues

A German defense on a broad front 50 to 80 miles above Rome were shattered when Allied Fifth and Eighth army troops drove north in a plunge which netted them hundreds of prisoners.

German resistance had cracked all the way from the Tyrrhenian sea, east around the northern end of Lake Bolsena and down to Tivoli, 70 miles east of the Allied advance coastal column.

The enemy was in full retreat from the entire Adriatic sector. Their retreat was so fast that speedy Eighth army flying columns were unable to contact Nazi rear guards. Even fresh German reinforcements, hastened from the north to halt the Allied advance, routed after joining the Nazi 14th army in a furious three-day battle.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

PAIN DETECTOR: An electrical device, said to be able to detect disordered organs of which the patient is unconscious, was demonstrated at the convention of the Gastroenterological association meeting in Chicago. Dr. Lester Morrison of Philadelphia read a paper on the machine, and explained that it operated by the "visceral reaction" of the patient.

FACTORY WAGES: In April earnings of factory workers on an hourly basis reached a new high at $1.07 per hour, the National Industrial Conference reports. Because of a shorter work week however, total earnings were somewhat lower, being $40.08 on the national average, down 7 cent from March. Average work week was 42.2 hours in April.

PRICE CONTROL: Parity for Farmers

Under terms of the bill extending the price control machinery of OPA as passed by the House, processors who fail to pay a parity price for any farm commodity would be allowed to charge only 90 per cent of the OPA ceiling for the finished article.

(Parity is a price calculated to make farm purchases power equal to that prevailing from 1909 to 1914.)

Farm leaders had the support of the administration in putting through the measure in this form after the controversial cotton ceiling adjustment provision had been knocked out of the bill as passed by the Senate.

This cotton provision and the parity issue were the main problems between the House and Senate conference.

Once in the President's hands the bill still faced the direct of a veto because of amendment to it which would throw all OPA regulations open for legal tests in the regular federal district courts.

WOUNDED YANKS: Death Rate Cut

Of every 100 American soldiers wounded in battle, 97 are saved, according to Maj. Gen. Norman Kirk, surgeon-general of the U. S. army. The navy has an equally impressive record. In World War I the death rate of the wounded was 8 per cent. Now it is less than 3 per cent.

Abdominal injuries are among those most often fatal, resulting in death in 25 per cent of the cases. This, however, is a great improvement over 25 years ago, when 50 per cent died. Penetrating chest wounds are now fatal in less than 25 per cent of cases, while in the first World War more than half the men so wounded succumbed. A still greater advance has been made in treatment of head wounds. Now only 4 per cent die, as compared with 34 per cent in the last war.

Umberto of Italy

A communique from General Eisenhower's headquarters said that steady progress had been made west of Carentan across the base of the Cherbourg peninsula and between the Elbe and Vire rivers toward St. Lo, key junction 15 miles southeast of Carentan.

A message from General Eisenhower's headquarters said that steady progress had been made west of Carentan across the base of the Cherbourg peninsula and between the Elbe and Vire rivers toward St. Lo, key junction 15 miles southeast of Carentan.

Closeup of Crown Prince Umberto of Italy taken after Italian powers had been vested in him by his father, King Victor Emmanuel, who abdicated after the Allies had taken Rome.

Despite early successes on the invasion front, a word of warning came from Secretary of War Stimson who said that Allied troops in Normandy soon must face fierce counterattacks "than any have ever met." At the same time he predicted they would smash ahead until France was liberated and Germany crushed.

While the troops on the Normandy front were fighting off the German counter-attacks on land, residents of England said they flew from the United States to India to see the B-29s.

This raid also revealed the formation of a new air force, the 21st, which would serve the United States cause as a roving globe-trotting task force much like a naval fleet. ## CONVENTIONS: In Chicago

As the advance guard of the Republican party convention delegates began arriving in Chicago, political dogpenned had all but awarded the Presidential nomination to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, but friends of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio would not let their candidate be counted out without a battle.

They said that the contest for the nomination would go to the convention floor.

Bricker sources could not see a first-ballot victory for Dewey. However, the New York governor entered the convention with more delegates actually pledged to him than any other candidate, including Governor Bricker.

Officials in charge of arrangements for the Chicago meeting revealed that the candidate selected would probably make his acceptance speech from the convention floor on the day after his nomination.

Meanwhile, Democrats announced that Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma would keynote their convention scheduled for July 10, also in Chicago.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS: More than 12,000,000 families would like to buy alarm clocks, a survey conducted by the census bureau for the War Production Board during April indicates. The study was made among 4,500 representative families to guide the WPB.

The survey covered demand for 66 household articles. It showed that the percentage of "satisfied buyer demand" ranged from 88 per cent for sewing thread down to 5 per cent for wash bottles and lawn mowers.

ENTERING THE PROMISED LAND
LESSON TEXT—John 1:19-23:15. GOLDEN TEXT—He strong and of a good courage; he not afraid, neither he thou damaged; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.—Joshua 1:9

The forward look is typical of God's people. They are always to go on. They are to be like Israel, to whom came the word, "Moses is dead," but "now therefore arise and go"—under a new leader.

Our lessons for this quarter center around the experiences of Israel from Joshua to David, a period rich in historical data, much of it with most helpful spiritual application. It affords a real opportunity for effective teaching.

Moses was now dead, but that only brought forth

I. God's Provision of a New Leader (1:1-2)
God buries His workmen at the end of their day of labor, but God's work goes on. The people had become attached to Moses and had learned to trust his leadership (even though they often murmured). With that would be a widow, but that was not in God's plan.

The Lord waits the right men. He gives them abilities and uses them for His glory—often in a way which astounds them and obscures their own part. He does not become proud, for God has someone to take their place when they are gone. They are not indispensable.

Sometimes people take as though all the great leaders of the church had died, or were dying. Yet God has some obedient men who are ready to step into the gap.

Joshua was ready, when God was ready, and he stepped into leadership.

II. God's Promise of Victory (1:3-5)
The promise given to Moses was still good. God's promises are always good. They are the only really stable thing in a trembling universe. The question is, Are we ready to accept Him at His word?

We should take Him at His word. And our lives would be all the time in the sweetness of our Lord.

They were to step out by faith. The land was promised to them only as the sole of their foot should tread upon it. Israel never took out the full promise of verse 4. They lacked faith. Do we?

God honors those who believe Him and who move forward by faith to plant the foot of spiritual conquest in new territory. Some are doing it now. Are we?

The enemies of God's people were men and might, but they were not able to stand in the way of God's people when they were moving forward for Him. Here again, Israel failed. They did not drive them out, because they did not take God at His word. The application of that truth to us is obvious.

III. God's Plan for Obedience and Courage (1:6-9)
"Be strong and of good courage." There is a side to the believer's character which calls for submission, for turning everything over to God, for being without self-dependence. All that is good and very desirable, but it can never be substituted for that other side which calls for courage and fearless abandon to the cause of our God.

Joshua was made to realize—as we must too—that serving God (and especially in a place of leadership) calls for a measure of high courage unsurpassed in any other pursuit of man. It takes all there is of a man to be a real follower of Christ—be sure of that!

This courage, however, is not to be confused with a foolhardy bravery which is reckless and unintelligent. No indeed, for it is based on the observance of God's law (v. 7).

Note (v. 8) the importance of meditating upon God's Word. This (which is really a lost art in our day) means so absorbing the principles of the Word that our very lives are conditioned by them, and we are made ready to meet every problem in the light of its teaching.

IV. God's Purpose for the Future (2:1-10)
Past all the great and stirring experiences of Joshua, we have now the glimpse of the coming days. He was counseling the people regarding the future.

It is the mark of a great man that he looks beyond the end of his own short existence and plans for the future. Many there are who are not concerned about what happens once they are gone. They have no vision of the future, and their life is a mere passing show. They are not concerned about the future, and they are not concerned about the future.

It Will Pay You to Wait For BARSON!
After all, it's the examination that counts. Correct, scientific examination of your eyes is the ONLY way to determine whether or not you need glasses. Some are doing it now. Are we?

The enemies of God's people were men and might, but they were not able to stand in the way of God's people when they were moving forward for Him. Here again, Israel failed. They did not drive them out, because they did not take God at His word. The application of that truth to us is obvious.

YOUR INVASION!

FROM General Bradley, leading the Invasion ground forces, right through every rank, American men now face a brutal, desperate, able enemy. For this invasion has only begun—before our fighters lies a hard and bloody task, one that demands all their courage, backed by all your faith in their ultimate victory.

That faith will be tested many times in this invasion—in grim struggles, setbacks, possibly even temporary defeats. It will be up to you to remember that early victories usually only mean more savage opposition from a foe made more bitter, more ruthless as the shadow of his doom grows larger—up to you to keep that faith in days and nights of gloom as well as in hours of triumph.

There is little that you can do to show that you realize what they must face, perhaps for many months. But one thing you can do—back the attack with every dollar you can spare! Let the Bonds you buy in this greatest of Drives be the measure of your belief in their ultimate victory!
